*The Class of Two Thousand Three
proudly presents
the 119th edition of
Oak, Lily, and Ivy*

*"Then her's the oak, brave old oak
Who stands in his pride alone;
And still flourish he, a hale green tree
When a hundred years are gone.*

*"Ye lilies, bathed in morning dew
Of purity and innocence, renew each lovely thought.*

*"Oh! A dainty plant is the ivy green,
That creepeth o'er ruins old!
Of right choice food are his meals,
T'ween, in his cell so lone and cold.*

*"Fast he stealeth on, though he wears no wings
In a staunch old heart has he:
How closely he twineth, how tight he clings,
To his friend, the huge oak tree!"*

Before these crowded streets...

Estela Gonçalves

*As I step away from home now out on to the road
into a world of hidden paths
and bright places
I see myself in a thousand faces*

*Before these crowded streets
I walk alone
I'm on my own
for good or bad,
happy or sad
I'm here to face the world*

*Before these crowded streets
I see the flashing lights,
the glory of tomorrow and yesterday
the strange and familiar sights*

*Before these crowded streets
this is my world now
I'm drowning in today,
lost in tomorrow,
but I'm not just a face in the crowd*

*Before these crowded streets
I can make it on my own*

*"The old man said to me 'long before these crowded streets here stood my dreaming tree.' Below it he would sit for hours at a time." Congratulations to the Class of 2003. It's been a wonderful stay under the dreaming tree of our high school career, and the best of luck to all venturing out into those crowded streets. The 2003 Yearbook, Before these crowded streets..., is completed and with it our last year at Milford High School. As a senior, I can only ask where did the time go? As the editor of this yearbook, I can only say "Thank You."*

It seemed almost impossible in the beginning to sum up the laughter and tears that four years held for each of us at Milford High School, but somehow it was accomplished through the publication of this yearbook. This book represents us as a class but more importantly, it is a symbol of our perseverance; we finally made it. This yearbook has been published by twelve of the most wonderful characters in the Class of 2003, each more hard working than the next. As cliché as it sounds, it was a team effort that would never have been possible without each of its' members crazy antics and dedication. Also, a sincere "Thank You" to Mrs. Angelini. When times got tough, her compassion and encouragement just became more steadfast and inspirational. Who knows where we would be without the expertise of Mr. Pinto, not only with the camera but, also, fixing our computer.

Our small closet of a yearbook room seems more like a second home than it probably should, but that's what it became especially with Mrs. Canali's decorations. It must have been the Christmas lights and music or the big basket of candy or, perhaps, just her warm presence. And thus, the most heartfelt "Thank You" I have to give is to our Yearbook Advisor, Mrs. Patricia Canali. This yearbook could never have been done without her seemingly effortless dedication and commitment. Her direction helped us present our best, our most memorable moments for the past four years. The job of advisor has always proven rigorous and time consuming, but she did it with a smile, advising us in yearbook design and in life. At the end of this year, Mrs. Canali not only gained a beautiful yearbook but twelve adopted children who will forever be in her debt, especially this one. Thank you!

In Appreciation

Patricia Murray Canali

There are many supportive people who have guided the class of 2003 throughout our four years. However, there is one woman that stands out in our minds as exceptionally kind and loyal. She has not only been our guidance counselor, but also a mentor and yearbook advisor. Just when having a yearbook seemed hopeless, she gracefully stepped in, accepting the challenge, and rescued us. Every yearbook committee would love to work with such a cooperative, understanding and hardworking woman. Also, every student would love to have that woman participate in setting the course of her future. Now, as seniors, embarking on our future endeavors, we owe a debt of gratitude for her excellent guidance.

Her love for the class and determination to have the best representation of our memories here at Milford High School, led to early morning meetings, late night paper work and unending weekend sessions. Buried in prophecies and pictures, with stressful deadlines to meet, she never wiped that sincere smile off her face. Many wondered if the 2003 yearbook could be completed in time. She not only proved that it could be done, but proved that it could be done well. It is with great pleasure that we proudly dedicate the 119th edition of Oak, Lily, and Ivy to the woman behind the yearbook: Mrs. Canali.

Class History

Alison Ferrucci

Four years ago, we entered MHS as wide-eyed freshman ready to take on the school. Anticipation and the phrase "high school is the best four years of your life," filled our hopeful minds. Later in the year we discovered that phrase was far from a guarantee and began the countdown to the day we would leave MHS and begin our own futures.

Three years ago, we were not quite at the top of the world, but no longer at the bottom of the heap. We had sympathy for the scared freshmen and admiration for the departing seniors. Our Ring Dance took place that year, and while it was memorable, it was no Senior Prom. We were still counting the days to goodbye.

Two years ago, our micro world was attacked by asbestos while our macro world was attacked by terrorists. Also, in the wind of change, a new dress code was strictly enforced and the infamous ID's were introduced. On the flip side, we enjoyed an extended Christmas vacation and the Junior Prom. But the countdown to graduation continued.

Last September, we began the year we were all waiting for... and dreading. The SATs and college applications occupied our weekends as we nervously awaited a response and were familiarized with the sting of rejection. "Where are you going?" was the phrase heard most often in the halls. Senior year was a time for lasts, the last time we would ever see each other together and the last year we would countdown the days to our departure.

Now, as the bulletin board in the hall counts down our final days, we exchange pictures and hugs, preparing to embark on the journeys our adult lives will hold. The Senior Prom is over as well as the realization that we will not remain young forever. The one thing we will remain, is the Milford High School graduating Class of 2003.

Where have all the years gone? It is not often that both of the Class Advisors are parents of members of the graduating class, and as such, have known a majority of you since Kindergarten! We have had the privilege of watching you grow through the many activities that helped shape your lives; from elementary school science fairs and field trips to middle school experiences such as Nature's Classroom, the trip to Washington, D. C., and Heritage Week. The many facets of your Milford High School experience have offered you the chance to grow and mature through academics, athletics, music, and theatre as well as the multitude of diverse co-curricular activities in which you have had the opportunity to participate. Many of you who did not participate in class activities until recently have taken the opportunity to become involved this year and have contributed greatly to the legacy of the Class of 2003.

Not only have we had the opportunity to watch you grow as parents but we have also worked closely with many of you in Scouting, youth sports programs and community service projects. Our involvement with you throughout the years has given us that rare incite into the diverse personalities that make up the Class of 2003; a diversity that collectively enriches all of our lives.

Your high school years have left you with memories that will stay with you forever. The pages that follow will chronicle the unique events that have become the history of the Class of 2003. Look back on them with fondness but don't be afraid to break away from the familiar and take on new challenges.

It has been our privilege to work with you. If you continue to achieve in the future as you have over the past four years, your future will be bright. indeed. We wish you the best of health, happiness and success as you begin your journey beyond the walls of Milford High School.

Superintendent of Schools

Carol Daring, Ph.D.

The town of Milford sought a qualified leader to take the reigns of the public school system upon the retirement of Robert Berardi, Ed.D. in 2002. Throughout the process, one individual stood out among the many qualified applicants. This leader was found in Dr. Carol Daring. A qualified superintendent with a strong background in education, Dr. Daring was eager to begin the school year.

After graduating from Deering High School in Portland, Maine, Dr. Daring earned a bachelor's degree in French from the University of Maine, a master's degree in education, personnel and counseling services, a second master's degree in business administration from the University of New Hampshire and a doctorate degree from Boston College. She worked as a teacher for eleven years before becoming Assistant Superintendent in Gardner and then in Nahant.

Dr. Daring is confident that she can bring innovation and improvement to the Milford schools and that these changes will afford the school system the opportunity to perform to its maximum capabilities. She hopes that her work in Milford will help to prepare the students of Milford for their journeys through the crowded streets of life.

To the Class of 2003:

Congratulations on your graduation from Milford High School and becoming an alumnus of our storied institution.

For each of you, there is a unique story to tell regarding your accomplishments in the completion of a high school diploma. You have earned the distinction of being part of the first graduating class in the history of our Commonwealth to be required to pass the State mandated MCAS test in order to receive a diploma. Your diploma has a special significance that graduates before you can not claim.

You have the notoriety and distinction as the first MCAS class! Understanding that you will not be the last class to meet this requirement, I encourage you to tell your story to others. Enlighten siblings, friends and relatives as to the rigors of state mandated testing while hearing your views on the experience. For right or wrong, for good or for bad, you were held accountable and you got the job done.

I ask you to celebrate your achievements for you have earned something of value through your hard work and merit. Appreciate your achievements, take your lessons and experiences and use them to enrich the lives of others.

I challenge you to give back to your families and the community at large in the name of education as you become parents, mentors and friends to those who will require your love and guidance.

May you be healthy, happy, and learn that your desire to succeed is the most important incentive in leading a productive life.

All my best,

Faculty and Staff

Long after the last bell rings, the Class of 2003 will remember those teachers and individuals who influenced and directed our lives for the last four years. As members of this class, we will all have memories of block scheduling, the thrills of victory, the scare of asbestos, and the sharing of good times and bad. Through thick and thin, our teachers have been our mentors, our guides, and, in many cases, have become our good friends. We will long remember the laughter and the tears, the finals and the quizzes, the decisions (good and bad) that we have made as evolving adults. We, the members of the Class of 2003, offer our thanks for all your acts of kindness. You will live in our hearts forever and we will be indebted to you as we move from childhood to adulthood, for we have become productive members of society under your care. Thank you for all you have done!

Once upon a time in the land of Smurfs, Power Rangers and bicycles, we were out to save the world just like our Super Heroes. Childhood was filled with carefree times, fun science projects, field trips and, with each birthday, the prospect that someday we would be big like mom and dad. Now that we have reached the threshold of adulthood,

YOUNGER YEARS

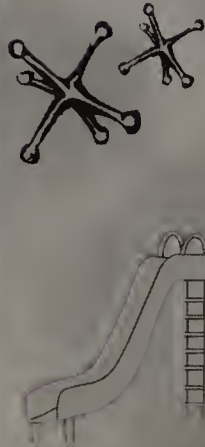

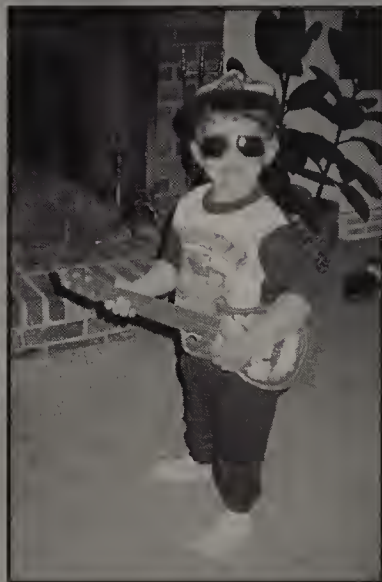

we look back to our "younger years" with fond memories of long lasting friendships and memorable experiences.

Now we look forward to the future and the fulfillment of our childhood dreams...

For the past four years, we have walked through life with the guidance of our parents, teachers, and closest friends. Still bathing in the glory of our youth, there are times that we think we know everything and that we have our lives planned out. We even dare to believe that we are immortal. Now, as we step out of the comfortable setting we have always known, we are indeed "before these crowded streets:" the streets of life. The sights and sounds are new and strange to us but we are not afraid. We will walk through many streets in our lives and face many difficult decisions. These choices will be "ours" and ours alone. We will endeavor to rise above the crowd. We will make our faces known and our voices heard. We will have experiences that we have yet to imagine. We will dare to dream. We are the future. We are the Class of 2003.

In Memoriam

One Sweet Day

Mariah Carey

*One Sweet Day
Sorry I never told you
All I wanted to say
Now it's too late to hold you
'Cause you've flown away
So far away*

*Never had I imagined
Living without your smile
Feeling and knowing you hear me
It keeps me alive
Alive*

*And I know you're shining down on me from heaven
Like so many friends we've lost along the way
And I know eventually we will be together
One sweet day*

*Darling I never showed you
Assumed you'd always be there
Took your presence for granted
But I always cared
And I miss the love we shared*

*Although the sun will shine the same
I'll always look to a brighter day
Lord I know when I lay me down to sleep
You will always listen as I pray*

*And I know you're shining down on me from heaven
Like so many friends we've lost along the way
And I know eventually we'll be together
One sweet day*

*Sorry I never told you
All I wanted to say*

“Go Big Red”

The 2002 Football Team was confronted with many challenges this year, from an extra game on the schedule to an injury plagued season. Senior tri-captains Brad Boyd, Ross Crimaldi, and Steve Paddock worked hard keeping the team together and focused during the tumultuous year. Boyd paced the offensive attack by leading the squad in both rushing and receiving yards as well as touchdowns. Ross Crimaldi anchored the offensive line with the support of classmates Jeff Innis and Tom Cataldo. Paddock, the team's leading tackler in 2001, was sidelined in week three with an injury, yet the defense never missed a beat. His absence called for others to step up and perform. Despite all the setbacks, this team never quit and represented Milford High with true character.

"It's a Toss Up"

This year's cheerleading squad tossed and tumbled their way to a third place finish at both the League competition as well as the Sectionals. The team also represented Milford with a strong effort in the Regional Cheerleading competition. “Sticking Together”

Milford High Field Hockey had the desire to achieve victory this fall, and finished with a strong record of 5-9-1. Led by senior captains Janice Moynihan, Sarah Guidi, and Taryn Buckley, the Lady Hawks rewrote field hockey history with a dramatic 1-0 win over rival Hopedale, their first victory over the Blue Raiders in 19 years. This team not only played with heart, but also was united as a squad on the field. They proved their tenacity with an emotional 2-0 victory over Marlboro to end the season. This was not only the seniors' last game but also the final match for Head Coach Stephanie Slack. Coach Slack established the Milford Field Hockey program 32 year ago and this final win was a fitting end to an illustrious tenure as Head Coach.

“Getting a Kick out of Competition”

The leadership of senior captains Brian Casey, Graham Houtchens, Dan Goncalves and Steve Rasa fueled the 2002 Milford High School Boys' Soccer team. Coach Jim Asam's squad finished the season with a record of 6-12 thanks in part to junior Jason Silva who tied for the team lead in points along with Casey. Milford had the opportunity to play the role of spoilers when they upset Nipmuc Regional 3-2. This victory ended Nipmuc's bid for an undefeated season. The season was an overall success despite the fact that many of the key contributors were in their first season of varsity soccer. The guidance of the four year-long captains, as well as the honorary captain Ryan Missaggia, was instrumental in keeping the team confident and focused throughout the year.

"Never Give Up"

To say that the 2002 Milford High Girls' Soccer team was young would be an understatement. The vast majority of the squad was comprised of underclassmen and the roster included only two seniors, co-captains Katie Mucci and Katie Hanley. In spite of this, the team worked hard all season long and showed great improvement from start to finish. The season was highlighted by a 1-0 victory over Quabbin Regional, as well as a 0-0 tie against perennial soccer powerhouse, Wachusett Regional. Sophomore Colleen Hill was the leading scorer for the Scarlet Hawks. Other major contributors included Juniors Meredith McCarthy and Althea Sutton, both of whom were co-captains with Hanley and Mucci. With all but two members of the current team returning next season, the team will surely look to improve in the years to come.

"Do It Up"

The year 2002 was supposed to be a rebuilding year for the Milford Girls' Volleyball Team. With only one returning starter from the 2001 state finalist squad, few thought the team would qualify for the district tournament. The Lady Hawks did make the districts and did so in style, winning their final four matches to finish the regular season with an 11-9 record, despite playing one of the most difficult schedules in the state. Led by senior tri-captains Jamie Pardee, Carrie Cucchi, and Kate Goggins, Milford made their presence felt in the tournament by upsetting 3rd seeded Marlboro 3-2 in the quarter final round. Although the Hawks were defeated by Norwood 3-2 in the District semi-final match they never quit and fought hard until the final point was scored. This team showed everyone that Milford volleyball doesn't rebuild, they just reload.

“Strokes of Genius”

The 2002 Milford High Girls' Swimming and Diving Team was one of the most successful in the program's history. The team placed sixth overall in the Southern Conference Meet and fifth overall in the State Meet. Senior tri-captains Jennie Knott, Becky Traverse, and Caitlyn Johnson led the squad to these finishes, which were the best in school history. All three swimmers were consistent point scorers throughout the season and Jennie and Becky recorded top 10 finishes in their respective events at States. A swimming milestone was also achieved when junior Sarah Kearns became the first female State Champion at Milford High by winning the 200 yard freestyle. With freshman Molly Kearns taking home two top tens at States and classmate Danielle Parretti setting a new school diving record in their rookie seasons, the future looks bright for the Lady Hawks.

"Fleeting Moments"

The 2002 Cross Country season was one full of change, from a new head coach in Corey Guerra to a home course lengthened to 2.9 miles. The Boys' team entered the season hoping to better their performance from last year. Led by juniors Alex Saniuk and Christian Biagetti along with seniors Mike Colelli and Tom Buckley, the boys' squad fought through an injury plagued season. It is hoped that this year of rebuilding will carry over to a more successful season next year. The Girls' Cross Country team finished with a 5-3 league record, just missing becoming the first ever MHS Cross Country team to qualify for the State Meet. Sophomores Sara Salmon, Jen Hobin, and Anna Komnatnaia lead the way as the Lady Hawks placed fourth in the District. Despite the loss of senior captain Leah Thomas, the future looks bright indeed for the girls' Cross Country program.

"The Key to Success"

The 2002-2003 boys' basketball team faced the unenviable challenge of entering the season having lost four starters to graduation. This squad was undeterred, battling through a tough league schedule and a non-league slate that included three new opponents. Milford was led by senior tri-captains Brian Kumf, Mike Colelli, and Dan Larkin; each of whom was in their third year of varsity experience. The Scarlet Hawks also procured valuable leadership on and off the court from seniors Steve Paddock, Rob Nehring, and Brain Casey. Throughout the year, the team emphasized defense, hustle, and teamwork. This philosophy, combined with the guidance of Coach Steve Manguso, resulted in yet another winning season for Milford and an appearance in the 2003 Central Massachusetts District Tournament.

“Follow the Bouncing Ball”

2003 was a rebuilding year for the Milford High girls' basketball team. With a new coach at the helm, Mr. Lou Piazza, the Hawkettes sought to improve from game to game and played with determination and heart throughout the season. Captains Katie Mucci and Lori Savage led the way for Milford as they fought through a tough Mid-Wach schedule and never gave up. Juniors such as Jess Morse, Val Ostaski, Meredith McCarthy, and Caitlin Egan also chipped in providing the added scoring, rebounding, and defense the team needed during the year. Despite the many challenges encountered along the way, Milford came together as a team and gave everything they had from the first game to the last. With nearly all the members of the current roster returning for the next season, the girls' basketball program will look to build upon this year for increased success in the future.

“Catch the Spirit”

The 2002-2003 winter cheerleading team shifted gears from the fall as Coach Heather Johnson's squad took their act indoors from the sidelines of the football field to the hardwood of the gymnasium. During the year, senior captains Mia Record and Jess Kiley, along with juniors, Lauren Knight, Jackie Pica, Hillary Sackett, Lauren Plichta, Kelly Bradford, and Nicole Lombardi provided the team with valuable leadership. Throughout the boys' basketball season, the cheerleaders rallied the Milford fans in support of the Scarlet Hawks. At each home game, they dazzled the crowd with an entertaining and well-executed halftime floor routine that combined elements of cheering, dance and gymnastics. In addition to supporting the basketball team, the cheering squad participated in several tournaments, including League and Regional Competition. Perhaps the highlight of the season was the 13th Annual Milford Invitational Cheering Tournament where the Lady Hawks were able to show the results of their hard work on their home court.

“Different Strokes for Different Folks”

The Milford High boys' swimming and diving team entered the 2002-2003 season with high expectations. They looked to build upon last year's success and leave their mark on the swimming program. Senior captains Mark DelVecchio, Jon Nable, John Iannitelli, and Dan Ferris led the squad to a winning record in dual meets and a strong finish at the Southern Conference Meet. In addition to their success within the conference, the Scarlet Hawks were also well represented at the sectional meet. Coach Dave Chaplin's group of dedicated, hard working young men strove for excellence throughout the season and faced the many physical challenges and rigors of the sport with true character.

“One Track Mind”

In many ways, the indoor track team was a team without a home. With no facility in which to practice, these athletes worked out anywhere and everywhere, from the streets of Milford to the halls of MHS. With the 2003 squad numbering nearly eighty, this was no easy task. Coach Paul Johnson's handpicked selection of captains took on the added responsibilities of supervising the workouts on many occasions. For the boys, seniors Jamie Lyon, Tom Cataldo, Chris Villani, Tom Buckley, and Joel Nieves served as captains. The girls were led by senior Leah Thomas and juniors Melissa Pilla, Alison Ward, Allison Timm, and Kasey Dixon. The dedication displayed throughout the season by the boys' and girls' teams led them to 5th and 6th place finishes, respectively, in the Mid-Wach League Meet. Milford was also well represented at the District and State track meets by some of the top performers for both the boys and the girls.

"Let's Pin Down the Victory"

The 2002-2003 Milford High wrestling team, like any wrestling team at MHS, had a great deal of tradition to live up to. This is a difficult position for any squad to be in, but this group of dedicated athletes responded to the challenge like champions. Milford posted an outstanding dual meet record, and rolled through the Mid-Wach schedule to bring home the league crown. Seniors Pete DeLuca, Ross Crimaldi, Ryan Missaggia, and Chris Zacchilli were all instrumental in the team's success during the season. In addition to scoring victories on the mat, they also called upon their experience to aid coach Jim Asam in guiding the younger wrestlers. The hard work and dedication displayed by the Scarlet Hawks helped make this season a successful one.

Theatre Workshop

The Theatre Workshop, which has been in existence since 1977, performs two shows per year, a fall drama and a spring musical. Among the cast, crew, and tech there are approximately sixty students who participate in the drama. In the spring musical the orchestra is also included among the participants, so the musical can include as many as eighty students. The Workshop, which is student run with three or four faculty advisors/directors, has garnered an excellent reputation and has produced an eclectic mix of shows, ranging from high dramas such as Macbeth to comedy pieces such as Clue. Some of the Workshop's most memorable musicals have been Fiddler on the Roof, Grease, and Jesus Christ, Superstar.

Oak, Lily, and Ivy

In November 1884, Mr. Herbert W. Lull, principal of Milford High School, initiated a literary publication with Inez L. Gay as its editor. •The Oak, Lily, and Ivy has grown into an annual yearbook highlighting the talents and accomplishments of the students and faculty at Milford High School. This is the 119th edition of Oak, Lily, and Ivy. Throughout the last century, this publication has been transformed from a literary enterprise into the Yearbook that you see today. This year's edition has been created by a dedicated group of individuals who have worked tirelessly to produce a comprehensive and complete Yearbook highlighting the many accomplishments of the Class of 2003.

You came into our lives as a breath of fresh air possessing qualities that surpassed none. In the face of your adversity, you exemplified great strength and will. In you we saw great kindness for others, loving ways that touched many hearts. You put your class first, then yourself. You never gave up when the going went rough. You always had a kind deed or thought for those less fortunate. Life for you is a daily gift of happiness to share with others. Your laughter makes people feel good. Your love makes them feel wanted. This is why we love you so much and could not be prouder of you. Take a look in the mirror because your smile tells the story of you – Francesca!!!

A você que abriu mão de momentos de convívio, que sofreu a nossa ausência, quando o dever e o estudo te chamaram;

A você que tentou ocupar as horas solitárias de todos os modos possíveis, nos mostrando a filha maravilhosa que és.

Grandes foram e serão as suas lutas, maiores as vitórias. Sempre estaremos com você.
